Justin Macdonnell

Executive Director of the ANZArts Institute

Introduced by Emeritus Professor Di Yerbury
Vice-Chancellor of Macquarie University 1987-2006

Justin Macdonnell has had a long career as an entrepreneur. He began as an opera director and in the 1980s developed Macdonnell Promotions, an arts management company providing services internationally. He conducted several government reviews, published a critical history of the rise of the federal Arts Ministry, and in 1993 became Executive Director of the Australia-Latin America Foundation to develop a cultural exchange network. He has curated programs throughout South America and the Pacific and 2003-2007 was Artistic Director of the Carnival Center for the Performing arts in Miami. This year he returned to Australia to establish the ANZArts Institute, a think-tank for the creative industries.
